FEDERAL UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOG, MINNA, NIGER STATE, NIGERIA

COURSE TITLE

INFORMATION LITERACY

COURSE CODE

LIS 122

COURSE UNIT

3

Department of Library and Information Science
Federal University of Technology (FUT) Minna,
Niger State, Nigeria.

Introduction

Information literacy (LIS 122) is a 3- credit unit course for students studying towards acquiring a B.Tech in library science. The course is divided into 4 modules and 11 study units. It will first introduce the basic information literacy terms, core concept and types of information literacy. Next, research process and characteristics of information, information organization and location, Topic exploration/search strategies/ controlled vocabulary formulate inquiry/ Boolean searching, database selection and evaluation, types of periodicals and evaluation of periodicals, web resources use and evaluation and ethical use of information.

Recommended Study Time

This course is a 3-credit unit course having 11 study units. You are therefore enjoined to spend at least 3 hours in studying the content of each study unit.

Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Define key terms and concepts in information literacy;
2. Identify the various types of information literacy and their applications;
3. Explain the research process and describe the characteristics of different types of informtaton;
4. identify information through a variety of sources;
5. use some advanced search techniques (controlled vocabulary, Boolean operators);
6. Evaluate databases and periodicals for academic and professional
7. Critically assess web resources based on credibility, relevance and accuracy.
8. Apply ethical standards and proper citation methods when using information.
9. Utilize tools and techniques for effective inquiry and topic exploration

Course Aims

The course aims to equip students with information literacy skills as information professionals that will be assisting information seekers to meet their needs.

Objectives

This course intends to:

1. expose students to definitions of the term Information Literacy (IL);

2. highlight the meaning of following terms/concepts: Information, information literacy; gateways, plagiarism, referencing, citation, the internet, world-wide-web, social media etc;

3. describe the Historical Development of the Internet;

4. provide knowledge on how to access and assess online journals and databases; and

5. explain the advantages and disadvantages of using search engines.

6. Provide skills for assessing and selecting credible web resources.

Course Contents

Course Introduction/Information Literacy. Research Process/Characteristics of Information. Information organization and location. Topic exploration/Search Strategies/Controlled Vocabulary Formulate Inquiry/ Boolean Searching. Database selection and evaluation. Types of Periodicals / evaluation of periodical content. Web resource use and evaluation. Ethical use of information

Module 1 Introduction to Information Literacy

Unit 1: Definition of Terms

Unit 2: Research Process

Unit 3: Characteristics and Sources of Information

Module 2

Unit 1: Information Organization and Location

Unit 2: Topic exploration/ search strategies

Unit 3: controlled vocabulary formulate inquiry/ Boolean searching

Module 3

Unit 1: Database Selection and Evaluation

Unit 2: Types of periodicals/ evaluation of periodical content

Module 4

Unit 1: Web resource use and Evaluation

Unit 2: Ethical use of information